FAMOUS OXFORD UNIVERSITY IS PICTURED IN PARAMOUNT MOVIE

David Powell and Mary Glynn in a scene from the Paramount Picture "The Princess of New York."

Oxford University, that famous seat of learning in England, is beautifully pictured in the Paramount British-made picture, "The Princess of New York," featuring David Powell, which will be shown at the Isis theatre tomorrow. The scenes taken around the university grounds embrace the entire campus, but feature the section which includes Oriel college for most of the action. For American audiences especially, the scenes should have an interest because of the wide popularity Oxford University has attained through the many Rhodes scholars who have completed their education there.

The scenes of the university are but a few, however, of the novel settings which have been incorporated in the continuity of "The Princess of New York." Among others are surroundings of British social and student life, the quaint old Temple in London's legal corner; a big scene of proceedings at the Bow Street police court; the lounge of a famous Strand hotel and dinner parties at a well-known Mayfair restaurant. A thrilling motor chase provides a smashing climax for the story.

Evidence that English stage artists are turning to the screen is furnished in the excellent cast Donald Crisp, the producer, assembled. Included in it are Mary Glynn, a Paramount favorite; Mrs. Saba Raleigh, who is devoting her time to the screen after a successful stage career on both sides of the Atlantic; Ivo Dawson, who after an extensive stage experience is concentrating upon motion pictures, having appeared in several Paramount productions in this country; Dorothy Fane, popular actress; George Bellamy, Philip Howland, Wyndham Guise, Jane West and Audley Willis.

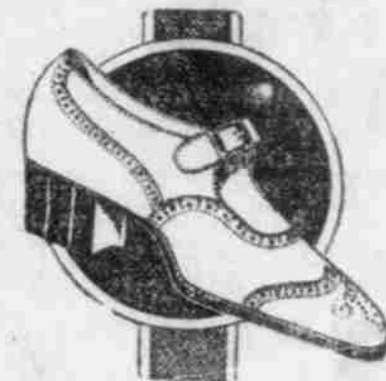

"The Princess of New York" is from Cosmo Hamilton's novel of the same name; the screen version of which was prepared by Margaret Turnbull.

More Liked the more it is used

There are many delightful ways to use Domino Syrup: As a table spread—as a delicious flavor for cookies, baked beans, puddings, sauces, whips—and as a "top" for ice cream and other desserts. The popular flavor of sweet sugar cane makes it more liked the more it is used.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING OF MISS JONES AND MR. BROWN SOLEMNIZED MONDAY EVENING

A beautiful wedding of the early spring season was that of Miss Bessie Marie Jones, who plighted her troth to Mr. Howard David Brown, on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Jones, 505 West Garden street. This very impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Tracy, before a number of friends and relatives of both the bride and groom.

Before the entrance of the bridal party a beautiful duet was rendered by Miss Vesteria Jones and Mrs. J. W. Gibson, two sisters of the bride, it being, "When the Old Folks Were Young Folks." The bridal music from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. J. W. Gibson as the party made their appearance from the spacious hall into the parlor which was beautifully decorated in long and graceful bowers of southern smilax, intermingled with white bridal wreath. A lovely arch was made of bridal wreath, and a background of greenery and potted plants in the parlor, where the marriage vows were spoken.

Miss Evelyn Hoyt, bride's maid, a cousin of the bride, was attractive in a chic frock, made of brown taffeta—the skirt was circular in effect and the waist was made in the basque effect, and trimmed in henna georgette and narrow ruffles of brown taffeta on both the waist and skirt. She stood with Mr. Albert Baggett, who was best man.

The charming bride was gowned in a navy blue traveling suit. Her hat was a lovely spring creation and matched her gown.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held, at which time delicious cream and cake were served, these dainty refreshments carrying out the color motif of pink and white, which were used through the dining room. Potted plants and lovely spring flowers also aided in making every spot in the hall and dining room bright. The attractive center piece on the dining table proved to be the wedding cake, white and beautiful, it containing the matrimony favors. The button was cut by Miss Vesteria Jones, the dime, Miss Edith Hoyt, and the ring was cut by Miss Georgia Padgett.

The happy young couple left for their home, 1404 East La Rue, where they will immediately begin housekeeping. Miss Jones is a pretty young girl, a graduate of the class of '21 from the Pensacola high school. She has numerous friends and admirers, who are congratulating her and Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown is a prominent clerk at the Pensacola gas works, where he is well known and liked by all.

YOU CAN.

If you think you're beaten, you are.
If you think you dare not, you don't.
If you like to win, but think you can't, it's almost a cinch you won't.
If you think you'll lose, you're lost.
For out in the world you'll find
Success begins with a fellow's will;
It's all in the state of mind.

Full many a race is lost
"Ere ever a step is run;
And many a coward fails
"Ere ever his work's begun;
Think big, and your deeds will grow;
Think small, and you'll fall behind;
Think that you can and you will,
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise,
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.
Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man,
But soon or late the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.
